As part of the World Intellectual Property Day (April 26, 2023), the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) is honoring all the talented women in the world with the theme "Women and IP: Accelerating Innovation and Creativity". Since women stimulate scientific development, create businesses and set trends, the aim is to encourage them to make use of intellectual property and to make gender parity in this area a reality.

Amendments to Rule 14 of the Common Regulations under the Hague System

Certain amendments to Rule 14 of the Common Regulations under the 1999 Act and the 1960 Act of the Hague Agreement adopted by the Assembly of the Hague Union at its thirty-sixth session entered into force on April 1, 2023. The International Bureau is now allowed to encourage applicants to cover the payment of at least the basic fee for a design, before the examination begins. The aim is to improve the services by centralizing examinations in cases where the corresponding fees have been paid.

Works on the General Law on Humanities, Sciences, Technologies, and Innovation begin

On March 14th, 2023, the board of directors of the United Commissions on Science and Technology and Education of the Chamber of Deputies published an agreement to determine the process leading up to the final project for the General Law on Humanities, Sciences, Technologies, and Innovation.

This document includes the participation of the National Council of Science and Technology (CONACYT) in its development, as well as an open parliament on March 29th to gather comments and proposals from interested parties. After hearing the perspectives of those involved, a project will be developed to continue with the corresponding legislative process.
